Southern Illinois Penitentiary Library

Rules. REMOTE STORAGE

The Library is open to every employee and prisoner under the following rules and regulations:

Employees are at liberty to take out books and change them at any time by applying to the Librarian, but THEY CANNOT TAKE OUT MORE THAN ONE BOOK AT A TIME. Employees cannot draw books for prisoners nor prisoners for employees. An employee drawing a book from the library must return it before he will be allowed to draw another one. An employee drawing a book from the library cannot loan it to another employee and draw another book from the library. All books taken out are charged to the person drawing them and the book cannot be credited to the person drawing it until said book is returned to the library by the person drawing it. For any loss or destruction of a book, the party drawing it from the library will be held liable and the price of the book will be charged to him.

A prisoner desiring to draw books from the library should obtain a library slip and catalogue from the Librarian, select twenty numbers from the catalogue, write them on the slip, and place slip and catalogue on the head of his bed on book-day for his gallery. The slip and catalogue will be taken up by the Librarian and book delivered.

When slip is returned with book BE SURE AND MARK OFF THE NUMBER OF THE BOOK DRAWN; otherwise you are liable to receive the same book again.

In leaving book upon the bed to obtain another one, place your slip about one-half way in the book so the register, cell and gallery numbers can be easily seen.

Book-days are as follows:

Mondays: Galleries 1, 2, 3, 4 South Cell House.

Tuesdays: Galleries 5, 6, 8 South Cell House.

Wednesdays: North Cell House.

DO NOT WRITE ANY COMMUNICATION OF ANY KIND OR YOUR NAME on your library slip. Simply have your register, gallery and cell numbers: and the number of the twenty books you desire to read.

If you change cells leave your book in your old cell and get a new slip from the Librarian from which to draw books.

The Librarian will pass along each gallery on Sunday afternoons to furnish new slips and catalogues to use in filling the slips.

A book cannot be retained longer than two weeks without a special permit from the Chaplain or the Librarian. Prisoners are not permitted to exchange books with each other.

For any mutilation, marking with pencil or pen, or drawing pictures in books, you will be deprived of the use of Library.

If each prisoner will read these rules carefully and observe them, there will be no difficulty in getting regularly supplied with books.

W. N. RUTLEDGE,
Chaplain.
